Cockpit Attack on Israel-Bound FlyDubai Flight

- On Wednesday, the Omani co-pilot of FlyDubai flight FZ1073 from Dubai to Tel Aviv allegedly stabbed the captain and sent the Boeing 737 into a dive from 34,000 to about 15,000 feet; passengers overpowered him and the jet landed safely at Tabuk, Saudi Arabia, with 174 people aboard, 166 of them Israeli. — The Times
- President Trump said the co-pilot may have been acting in concert with Iran; Prime Minister Netanyahu said it was too early to say whether Iran was involved, though he did not rule it out; Israeli officials said the co-pilot appeared to have acted alone and been radicalized into jihadist ideology. — The Times
- Saudi Arabia transferred the co-pilot to UAE custody on Thursday, where the prosecutor general ordered a probe into whether the attack was terrorism; FlyDubai has cancelled all its flights and El Al jets are on standby to ferry stranded Israelis home from Dubai. — The Times

Fifth Tanker Strike in the Strait of Hormuz

- U.K. Maritime Trade Operations said a tanker was struck by an unknown projectile while transiting the Strait of Hormuz on Thursday, causing a fire; the crew was reported safe while damage and environmental impact remained unclear. — Wall Street Journal
- The incident was the fifth UKMTO-reported tanker strike or suspected strike in the strait since September 28, keeping shipping risks elevated even as Middle East crude exports recover. — Wall Street Journal

New Arrest in RAF Fairford Plot Investigation

- British counterterrorism police arrested a British-Iranian dual national in Westminster, London, on October 1 on suspicion of preparation of terrorist acts in connection with the alleged plot against RAF Fairford; police are investigating multiple lines of inquiry, including possible foreign state involvement. — CNN
- The arrest follows Prime Minister Burnham's September 30 statement of 'strong indications' that Iran played a part in the weekend plot against the base, which the United States uses to stage bombers striking Iran; Iran's embassy in London has denied any involvement. — Wall Street Journal

Markets

- Brent crude traded at $99.79 a barrel on October 2, down about two and a half percent as talks of European emergency-stock releases weighed on prices. — Reuters
- WTI crude traded at $89.36 a barrel on October 2. — Reuters
- The U.S. 10-year Treasury yield stood at 5.24 percent on October 1, easing from a 24-year high of 5.34 percent. — Reuters
