

US-Iran Conflict Briefing

2026-10-05 · Morning edition · Issued 07:00 CDT

Hormuz Tanker Strikes Surge

- Seven vessels were attacked near the narrowest part of the Strait of Hormuz in the past week, according to UKMTO data reported by the Journal. — Wall Street Journal
- A U.S. official told the Journal that Iran's ability to target ships has improved in recent weeks. — Wall Street Journal
- At least four of the seven struck vessels had completed two or more round trips in and out of the strait since June, according to Kpler shipping data cited by the Journal. — Wall Street Journal

Hormuz Oil Flows Rebound Toward Pre-War Levels

- Crude and product flows through the Strait of Hormuz averaged 14.2 million barrels per day over the seven days ending September 26 — nearly eighty percent of pre-war levels — according to Kpler data cited by Reuters. — Reuters
- Middle East crude exports ran at 19.5 to 22.5 million barrels per day on September 24 and again from September 27 through 29, per Kpler data cited by Reuters. — Reuters
- Reuters notes flows have declined since September 26 but will likely be revised higher, because ships commonly disable their AIS transponders for days after crossing the strait. — Reuters

Iran Executes January-Protests Detainee

- Iran executed Siavash Jamshidi Kheirabadi on October 3 for allegedly firing at police during the January protests, the judiciary said. — Reuters
- The judiciary said Kheirabadi fired at least three shots at police on January 8 and was arrested two days later with a handgun in Shahrekord, in southwestern Iran. — Reuters
- The protests erupted on December 28, 2025, over economic hardship and swelled into demonstrations calling for the end of clerical rule, Reuters reported. — Reuters

Markets

- Brent crude futures were quoted at $102.91 a barrel in the October 5 read; Reuters' same-day market wire put Monday's intraday Brent quote near $102.20. — Reuters
- West Texas Intermediate futures were quoted at $90.81 a barrel in the October 5 read; Reuters' same-day wire put the U.S. crude quote near $90.75. — Reuters
- The U.S. national average diesel price held at $6.382 a gallon for the week ending September 28, per the EIA weekly retail survey. — Wall Street Journal
- The U.S. 10-year Treasury yield stood at 5.2643 percent on October 5, retreating slightly from Friday's level, per Reuters' same-day market wire. — Reuters
- VLCC spot rates for Middle East-to-Asia voyages recently exceeded $1.2 million per day, up from roughly $30,000 a day in January, shipping broker Poten & Partners said via Reuters. — Reuters

Shipping

- Crude and product flows through the Strait of Hormuz averaged 14.2 million barrels per day over the seven days ending September 26 — nearly eighty percent of pre-war levels — per Kpler data cited by Reuters. — Reuters
- Middle East crude exports ran at 19.5 to 22.5 million barrels per day on September 24 and again from September 27 through 29, per Kpler data cited by Reuters, with volumes easing since then. — Reuters

Related media

Oil tankers near the Strait of Hormuz (file image) — view original

Ships transiting near the Strait of Hormuz (file image) — view original

Sources: Wall Street Journal · Reuters · Reuters · Reuters · Reuters · Wall Street Journal
Compiled from X posts and traditional news outlets. Verify before acting on any single report.